

Prevention Is The Cure

Hormones such as progesterone, estrogen, and prolactin can spike during monthly cycles. This, in combination with iodine deficiency, can disrupt the natural life and death cycle of breast cells. Too many breast cells in the mix can cause some major discomfort, including (but not limited to) breast tenderness, aches, heaviness, and swelling.

WHAT DOES VIOLET DO?

Violet is designed to remove cyclical breast pain from the equation by treating the cause instead of the symptoms. Our patented OTC formula combines two types of iodine to help restore the natural balance.

Like a daily vitamin for your overall health, Violet is a daily supplement for the health of your breasts.

HOW DOES VIOLET WORK?

The two key ingredients in Violet are iodine and selenium, and the unique molecular iodine structure targets breast tissue to reduce swelling. Not only can this first-of-its-kind formula alleviate breast discomfort, but it has also been shown to promote overall breast health.

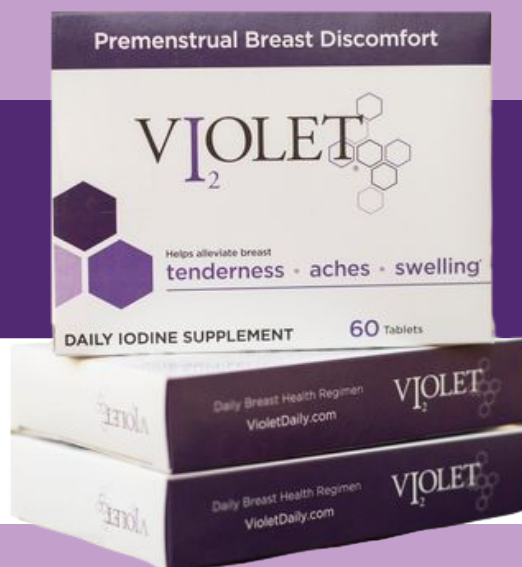

"Hello from Montana! My name is Amanda and I am an Ayurvedic Practitioner and Health Coach. One of the most common recommendations I make for my clients struggling with premenstrual breast discomfort is Violet daily iodine supplement. After personally suffering for years with extreme breast tenderness and swelling for two weeks before my cycle, I discovered Violet. Within one month of taking it daily, my symptoms were gone! I am so grateful for your product."

Amanda F.

VIOLET (60 TABLETS) $49.99

Violet iodine is a non-hormone daily supplement that relieves common menstrual-related PMS breast discomfort symptoms including tenderness, swelling, aches and heaviness and helps promote optimal breast health. Some women experience symptom relief with their first menstrual cycle; however initial symptom relief may take 60 days or longer.

VIOLETDAILY.COM

JOIN OUR AFFILIATE PROGRAM

Join our affiliate program and help spread the word about Violet Daily! Earn commissions while promoting breast pain relief, lasting comfort, and optimal breast health. Sign up today at and start making a difference!

PARTNERS@VIOLETDAILY.COM

